

The regional groups of Mouvement Ecologique form the important local and regional backbone of the organization. Thanks to these groups, national topics can be addressed in concrete ways at the local level, knowledge can be exchanged, and specific issues within a municipality or region can be taken up.

Depending on the topic and current developments, the level of activity in the regional sections varies throughout the year.

In general, active members of the regional groups also contribute to national dossiers, sharing their local experience and perspective.

REGIONAL GROUPS – AN IMPORTANT PILLAR OF MOUVEMENT ECOLOGIQUE

The presence of regional sections is of great importance to Mouvement Ecologique. It is precisely at the local or regional level that the organization's ideas can truly come to life — and municipalities can play a leading role in putting them into practice.

It is equally important to have people on the ground who can get involved when controversial issues arise in a community. In such cases, it makes a real difference when engaged local residents contribute ideas, develop positive visions, and actively participate in local dialogue.

Are you interested in getting involved with a regional group? Or perhaps you'd like to help start one in your own municipality?

If so, don't hesitate to get in touch: meco@oeko.lu

The regional groups are always happy to welcome new members.
